

VLADIMIR PUTIN
President of Russia

JOSEPH BIDEN
President of the United States

MESSAGE FOR PEACE

Dear world leaders!

In deep respect for the millions of people who gave their lives for peace in World War II, particularly having in mind the tragic destiny of many prisoners of war as victims of Nazism and fascism, I humbly hope that the looming war tensions will be peacefully resolved.

I am convinced that you are capable of finding a peaceful diplomatic solution and by doing so restore the trust of the people all over the world. Peace is the best and the only path that lead us to a better future and to prosperity on our planet. United States of America and the Russian Federation, both world's superpowers and great victors of the Second World War, have already proved in the past that they are able to act as partners and in mutual respect, putting joint efforts in implementing the past and making new agreements.

It's about our common future now, it's about peace!

On behalf of the International Research Center for Second World Frangrances Maribor-Slovenia (MRC),
director of MRC Janez Ujčič

Maribor, 24.1.2022